Continuation of Substance of Interview including description of the general nature of what was agreed to if an agreement was reached, or any other comments: Applicant's representative asserted that the claim recitation of "an earliest moment the computer code was allowed to execute" distinguished the claimed invention from the prior art. The examiner noted that such a recitation of "an earliest moment..." is subjective and the prior art anticipates such a recitation for the reasons of record. The applicant's representative disagreed that this recitation was subjective and asserted that the recitation of "an earliest moment..." may only be interpreted as the earliest time that the computer code was allowed to execute on the system of which the computer code resides.
